If you accidentally block the necessary caller, then at any moment you can unblock it literally in a few clicks. The user will be able to contact her at any time. You can block unwanted subscribers both before calling and in the app by blacklisting the number. Spy Phone combines several features that will be especially valuable for parents. You will be able to block any calls from unwanted numbers - all you have to do is use this application. The app blocks suspicious numbers like scammers or spam. An intelligent search engine allows you to see the true identity of each subscriber. And the convenient function of dividing into categories will not allow you to miss something important. It is worth noting that the information is given at the level of the city or district from which the call came. If you still get a fraudulent call, you can always report it to Hiya. You can add a frame from an emoji or select from existing options. The application is designed to search for phone numbers, block spam, as well as display the call screen. In your smartphone's Quick Access panel, you'll see 7 people's position information (maximum number), which means you'll quickly get the information you want. Mobile Number Locator allows you to search for numbers from many countries around the world - the United States, Canada, Mexico, India, and others. TrueMobile Caller ID works offline and does not require a permanent internet connection. We've picked up 11 good apps to help you find out a little bit more about the person who made the call. This app also can help you to track the location of the caller, but only by the mutual agreement. The user can also add a fake to the SMS history where it will be visible whether the SMS is delivered. This app allows you to track the location of any subscriber. If you have private unknown calls, you can try the Mobile Number Locator application to track these subscribers. You can even see who your kids are chatting with - their contact list is copied and sent to you. Nowadays, there are several applications that allow you to identify the person who called you. That way, you can know that it was a friend or acquaintance of yours who was just making a stupid joke on you. You can send your friends' geolocation information or your own status. Mobile Number Locator supports the history of all your latest searches, so you can even view the history of your geographic location. The service uses a list of spammers who frequently call you and other users trying to sell something. Also, thanks to the "HLR lookup" feature, users can make international calls for free, since the app has phone codes of all countries. Caller Location Tracker identifies any caller who wants to contact you, as well as help identify the person before you answer the call. This communication will be completely safe for both parties. You can configure the identification of unknown numbers in the settings. These can be simple advertising messages, calls from unknown numbers by mistake, or real harassment. By the way, Truecaller also blocks SMS-spam, preventing fraudsters from disturbing you. TrueMobile Caller ID is a unique application that tracks the position of your smartphone absolutely anywhere. It feels like you're becoming a part of another person's life, as well as learning something secret. As we have already said, the same principle is applied to SMS: text messages of each subscriber are identified, thus preventing fraud. In order to see all this information, you do not need to answer the call, the app will display all the information instead of with the call. A huge database allows you to find most callers and determine who they really are. The numbers that Hiya defines can be immediately added to your phone book and contact list. Some applications may save numbers from your contact list so that other users can access them as well. With Hiya you will no longer accidentally receive calls with spam or unwanted callers. After all, no one wants to deal with fraudsters or spam. The application represents a special tracking of subscribers and the ability to use a special alarm button. Truecaller also allows you to communicate with your friends or family. The application database contains more than 1 billion numbers, which are defined for you. The application is also responsible for protecting your phone from viruses - you will always be safe when using it. When detected, a subscriber's geographic location on the map is displayed with city accuracy - as it is difficult to obtain more accurate data in a short time. "Add Fake Call" adds a non-existent call to the log. Thanks to the app, users can find the location of an incoming number, block an unwanted call or mail. Thanks to calls in the call history, you can also find information about your service provider or the county from which the call was made. The security so guaranteed by the developers is formed with the help of an advanced mechanism to detect suspicious numbers. Telephone sales agents are also blocked instantly - you will not even know that they wanted to contact you. The way that Truecaller tracks the location of the callers that it detects it in a hidden way and blocks all the spam calls. So who called you? The Spy Phone app will allow you to keep track of other people's movements - but it will also require the consent of another person. To find the caller who makes the call, you must specify the desired number in the search bar, and it will immediately appear on the map. It captures your GPS position in real-time and keeps track of all your movements in your smartphone history. You will be able to completely block a person in Caller ID - neither SMS nor calls will come from him/her.
